STRESS TESTING — Preparing to undergo a treadmill stress test, Kay Levine is being attached to the monitor where Dr. Cipriano Vamenta, cardiologist, will study the results. He is assisted by Joyce Dreeland.

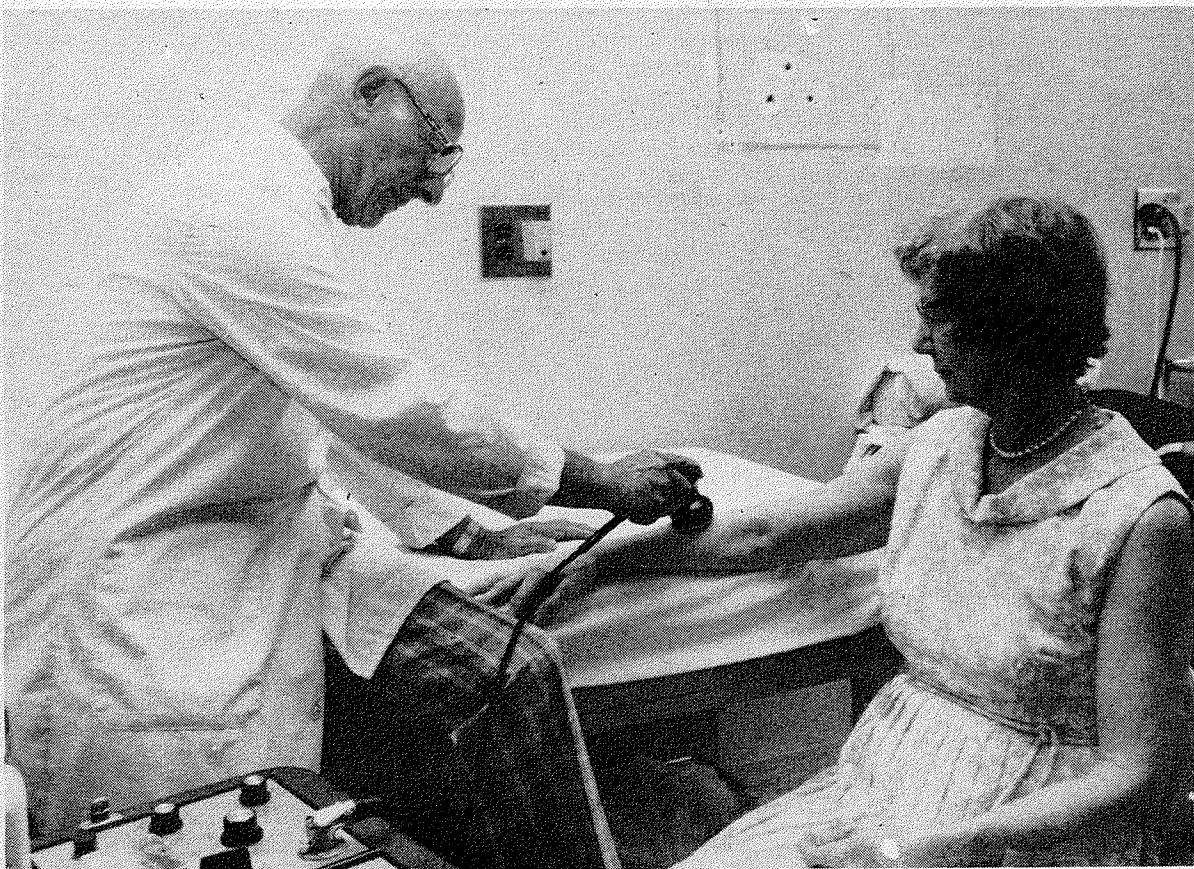

JUST IN CASE — Dr. R. Mohan Kilaru, general surgeon, above, examines a patient in the emergency room with the assistance of Monica Czerviko, R.N.

KEY PEOPLE — Dorothy Goulder, top photo, is the office manager, Joseph D'Mora is the pharmacist, and Sheila Phelan, left, is manager of general accounting and purchasing.

STAFF VETERAN — Doris Mitchell, medication nurse, above, holds the record for membership on the Butterfield staff. Miss Mitchell, whose mother, the late Mabel Mitchell, was a staff nurse, went to work for the hospital in September 1950 as a registered nurse after completing her training at Vassar Brothers Hospital. She worked for 30 years on the midnight to 8 A.M. shift and was the head night nurse until she took her present position. A native of Wappingers Falls, Miss Mitchell is a Haldane High School graduate. She lives in Cold Spring.

IN THE X-RAY LAB — Ted TeKatch of Fishkill, X-ray technologist, above left, prepares to X-ray an ankle injury. TeKatch, on the staff since 1969, received his training at the University of Buffalo, Buffalo General Hospital and Millard Fillmore Hospital in Buffalo. He and his wife, Judy, a registered nurse, live in Fishkill.

PHYSICAL THERAPY — Harry B. Doppelt, physical therapist, left, is using ultrasound on a patient. He came to Butterfield two years ago after serving as chief of physical therapy at the Castle Point Veterans Hospital for 31 years. A graduate of Rutgers, he trained in his specialty at what is now the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York. After graduate work at New York University, he worked in veterans' hospitals in Los Angeles and Louisiana and for the New York State Health Department in Albany before he settled at Castle Point. A resident of New Windsor, he feels he has found a new home at Butterfield.
